

Format and explanation:

This is the abstract topics so things that are repeatedly mentioned within the text over and over.

The format is first the shared context and then the topic group which is composed of themes. The shared context is auxiliary geographical data that is shared between groups of similar topics from the texts. The topic groups are composed of themes from the texts, themes are as they are named which is basically themes that BERTopic picks up on, they are then represented by a list identified by BERTopic and truncated to top 10 words just for ease of reading and interpretation; these word lists are not perfect representations and are not exhaustive of the breadth of a theme.
